ERASMUS IN SCHOOL

Local (high) schools open up their doors for international students to talk about their culture and choice to study abroad. It motivates others to be more culturally aware and the international environment.

WRITING TO THE ELDERLY

During the holiday season, students and volunteers wrote over hundred letters to elderlies to battle loneliness and encourage international students to have contact with the local community and its culture.

Buddy programme

Before students arrive in the city, they have the opportunity to be connected with a local student. This student will help out the best way possible in preparing the mobility programme.
